Consideration of the request of the Boston & Maine Railroad for the closing of the Church Street crossing has shown that this is a private crossing and Church Street as laid out does not cross the tracks at this point. As this is a dangerous, blind crossing it is in the best interest of the public safety that this crossing should be closed and a foot crossing, properly marked, should be installed, and erected with our approval.

CHELMSFORD, MASSACHUSETTS TO CHELMSFORD, ENGLAND
OCTOBER 9, 1941
STATION W. R. U. L.
BOSTON, MASS.

Frank J. Lupien

Hello, Chelmsford England!

It is indeed a great pleasure, privilege and honor for me, Frank J. Lupien, of Chelmsford, Massachusetts, U.S.A., as local Chairman of the Committee to defend America by aiding the Allies, to introduce the participants in this broadcast over station W.R.U.L., Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.A. to the people in our namesake City, Chelmsford, England; and it is now my privilege to introduce as our first speaker, Mr. Stewart MacKay, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen of Chelmsford, Massachusetts, U.S.A.

Mr. MacKay:

The next speaker that is my pleasure to present to the people of Chelmsford, England is Mrs. Arnold C. Perham. She is a woman very prominent in our Girl Scout and Red Cross activities in the Town of Chelmsford, Massachusetts, U.S.A.

Mrs. Perham:

The next speaker to be presented is the Reverend Charles W. Henry, Pastor of the Episcopal Church in Chelmsford, Massachusetts, U.S.A. He has had the pleasure of visiting your City in England, and is in a position to relate many memorable incidents connected with his visit there.

The Reverend Charles W. Henry:

A few words in closing-

We, the people in America, admire your pluck and courage, which are constant sources of inspiration to us.

Frank J. Lupton

We hope and pray that God will guide you, so that in the end, when victory comes, as it surely will, that your efforts and the extreme sacrifices that you have made for the sake of humanity and civilization shall not have been in vain; that the New Order in Europe, which is based on ruthless barbarism and terror shall not succeed; and that the government of freedom and peace loving people throughout the world shall not perish from the earth. That God be with you is our most sincere hope and prayer. Good-bye and good luck!

Stewart MacKay,
Chairman Board of Selectmen

It is with a deep and sincere friendship that I, as Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Town of Chelmsford, Massachusetts, United States of America, on behalf of its citizens, convey greetings and best wishes to all the citizens of our namesake city three thousand miles across the sea.

We deeply sympathize with you in your courageous battle to preserve your freedom and democracy so dear to all English speaking people all over the world. We are confident of the ultimate victory which your steadfast determination and undaunted courage so richly deserve. We admire your cool, unshaken will to face the death and destruction which have been visited upon you so many times.

Chelmsford, Massachusetts, is located about 25 miles north of Boston (the capitol of our Commonwealth) and is a growing town with a population of 8,000, well balanced in residential, manufacturing, and farming sections.

First settled in 1653, Chelmsford became incorporated as a town in 1655. From its earliest inception it has been given every encouragement to industry and became noted for its print mills, saw mill, and mechanical industries.

Trade with Boston was early developed to such an extent that the Middlesex canal was dug and the waters of the Merrimack River floated barges bearing passengers and merchandise to and from Boston. This was the first canal of its kind in the United States.

Mechanical industry was increased. This resulted in the development of the Merrimack River into the greatest system of water power in the country at that time, furnishing power for a large number of cotton and woolen mills at this point. The growth of this section was so rapid that in 1826 it separated to form the Town of Lowell, which a short time later, became a city.

Chelmsford at the present time has three woolen mills, one foundry, one boxshop, one ginger ale plant, beside numerous stores of all kinds. We are a town which has always taken an active interest in all the affairs of State and Nation, and have been amongst the first to respond when dangers threatened.

Our factories are running night and day, and all our organizations (church and civil) are united in the common cause of aid to the allies and the defense of the nation.

As we stood by the allies in the first World War of 1917-1918, we again stand ready to give every assistance, that victory may be assured.

Mrs. Arnold Perham

I deem it a pleasure and a privilege to bring to the women of Chelmsford, England's greeting from the women of Chelmsford, Massachusetts. From all the women of my town but especially from a little group with whom I gather each Tuesday to sew on Red Cross garments which we all hope may help to keep your children warm this winter.

And a very special greeting to your Girl Guides from our Girl Scouts. Twenty-eight years ago Girl Scouting came to America. It came thru the influence of a great international friendship between Lord and Lady Baden-Powell and our Mrs. Juliette Low of Savannah, Ga. For this friendship and for your gift of Scouting to us we are deeply grateful. As a tribute to Mrs. Low we have a national fund, known as the Juliette Low Memorial Fund to which every Girl Scout makes an annual contribution. Last year most of this fund was set aside to help our sister Scouts in the waring countries. This year it will again render the same service. My last thought is a personal one. Scouting has brought me a Friend from your own town, a Girl Guide, Iris Woolford, with whom I have corresponded for over four years and thru this Pen-Friendship I have come to know your Chelmsford, as I trust Iris knows mine. My warmest greetings to her.

Across the miles our friendly thoughts go on, as we address you. And ere we part, a wish, a prayer, and now good-bye. God bless you!

Reverend Charles W. Henry

The streets of your Chelmsford, as they were in 1938, are a very pleasant memory. I have walked about them with great interest and found a welcome everywhere. The Cathedral Church was the central point for my exploration; and that was natural, for I am the Rector of the beautiful, little stone gothic building here, called All Saints' Church. Our greetings go to you from all church people in this township. We have reminders of you in this place, your namesake in America, and they rouse our thoughts of you across the ocean, and our good wishes. As we enter the public library there are two old prints of the English Chelmsford, framed, and hanging on either side of the main door. One is a picture of an antique-garbed procession as they walk through the main thoroughfare, with the last buildings of past generations looking on. The other is the scene of the ruins of St. Mary's Church, which fell about the year 1800 A.D.

In the reading room is a most attractive large framed photograph of the River Chelmer in the year 1905, a picture of the very bridge on which I stood in 1938. Below this photograph is a likeness of the first Lord Chelmsford, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain.

In All Saints' Sacristy are two framed photographs of your Cathedral Church, and an old print of the same. They are reminders of the letters of good will, passed between the two Chelmsfords, which are carefully preserved in our archives, since 1902. We read there that our corporation of Chelmsford, in the commonwealth of Massachusetts, is the only one honored with this English Essex name in all the wide territory of the United States of America.

A letter and the enclosing envelope are found framed in the printing office here. They came from your Mayor in 1927, thanking the printer for his gift of two calendars. On the stamps of the envelope, as a part of the post mark, is clearly to be seen "British goods are Best". We are sure you would include American goods in your appreciation now, and we are glad to be able to send them, when they are needed.

I found in the records of your Cathedral Church a quotation in old style spelling from an inscription once on the flint stones on the north side of the central aisle. It was put there in 1424 and read "Pray for the good estate of the Townshipe of Chelmesford". You are in our thoughts much now, but you have been there more or less clearly for nearly three centuries, since the founding of our town in 1655. That old prayer we join in today, sincerely and hopefully, as we utter devote supplications for your welfare, now and in the future.

Rev. Charles W. Henry
